After raucously effervescent parties in Milan, Stockholm and New York, the Wallpaper* SodaStream Lock In road show arrived in the UK capital during London Design Festival week.

Taking over Chapman House, part of the well-heeled Chelsea Townhouses project by the London design and development outfit Morpheus, the likes of Noé Duchaufour-Lawrance, Marcus Fairs, Nina Tolstrup and Philippe Malouin admired the property's interiors, featuring patinato Veneziano polished plaster, oak flooring, wall panels in Whistler leather, Jura blue grey limestone, and hand-painted Fromental wallpaper.

Guests lounged on B+B Italia furniture and quaffed Yves Béhar-designed cocktails, including Fizzy Colada, Dutch and Bubbly and Bitter Sweet Truth, all freshly prepared by the SodaStream bubblelogists behind our now very well-travelled bar. This is made in Chelsea, SodaStream style.
